

PREMIUM MCT GOLD

Our 100% Medium Chain Triglycerides is made from the lipid fraction of coconut oil. It consists of triglycerides of C8 and C10 saturated fatty acids, which are more easily digested and absorbed than the long chain fatty acids in conventional food fat. Medium chain triglycerides are a direct energy source for the body. When you cut carbs, your body pulls energy from your muscles via a process known as muscle glycogen. This leads to instant fatigue. MCT Oil can provide the body with a unique source of fat that can be rapidly broken down and converted into energy. The body's fuel of preference is carbohydrate. MCT's mimic carbohydrates in energy, but unlike carbohydrates they do not typically get stored as fat. This is because MCT oil is quickly absorbed and utilized for energy by both your organs and muscles. This is important to an athlete on a low carb diet because without carbs you need an alternative energy supply to reach your maximum potential. Only MCT's give you the same long-lasting energy as carbs without the other effects of carbs. Contains no sugar, starch, wax, preservatives, yeast, artificial color or flavor.
